

1 correct?

2 A. I'm the oldest of the six children.

3 Q. I want to take you back to 1996 when his problems came to
4 light with the federal government. Prior to the time that
5 happened, the type of activities that got him in trouble, was
6 it known in the family that that was something that he was 7 doing?

8 A. His entire life. As far back as I can remember.

9 Q. Now, at the time that the problems happened, were you in
10 contact with Sue and any of the other siblings?

11 A. I tried to keep in touch with them. It wasn't often.
12 Millie, I may have kept in touch with -- not Ruby too much,
13 maybe once or twice I kept in touch with Ruby.

14 Q. All right.

15 A. Millie happened to live in New Orleans at one time, and we 16 did talk a little bit then.

17 Before that there wasn't too much going on between the 18 families. This trouble goes way back, way back.

19 Q. Was there a lot of interaction between the members of the 20 family before this trouble came up?

21 A. Not really. Sad, sad.

22 Q. At the time that the Trust was formed, did you personally
23 believe that there was any chance of saving this property?

24 A. No. I advised Susan not to even try.

25 Q. You did what?

A. I told her not to even try.

Q. Why is that?

A. Because, I knew what she would be facing.

Q. And, what do you mean by that, Ms. Mull?

A. Well, my father is not the most reliable person. He's lied before to get out of all his troubles. He did for years.

Q. You've known your father on occasion not to be truthful?

A. Yes.

Q. Since that Trust --

A. But, he never would admit it. He's in denial. He's been in total denial all his life, whenever he did something wrong.

Q. Did you talk to your father at any time after these problems came up with the federal government?

A. Only if Susan called me from the farm when she was upset about something he had done, and I would hear him talking.

And, then when I brought him to New Orleans I did talk to him.

Q. When did you bring him to New Orleans?

A. It was May of 2002.

Q. How long was he in New Orleans?

A. From May 2002 until September of 2003 I want to say. Right before his birthday, Judge Everett ordered me to move him back to Lafayette.

Q. During that time when he was New Orleans, did he ever express to you any remorse over what he had done?
